Faculty Opinions Now Available

Faculty Opinions, formerly known as F1000 Prime and Faculty of 1000, is now available at MD Anderson.

Faculty Opinions is an article recommendation service used to keep you up-to-date with the latest literature. Recommendations are made by leading faculty experts in biology and medicine, who also provide commentary and opinions on articles they deem important. Each article receives a star rating and is classified by its key findings and article type.

To use Faculty Opinions, MD Anderson staff can search by topic, faculty member, or institution. You can also register for an account to receive regular updates on recommended articles in your area of interest.

Faculty Opinions can be accessed at <https://facultyopinions.com>
